Position Statement

My NLTA journey has taken me through the many dimensions of our Association. This journey has provided me with the knowledge base needed to lead our organization. As an elected member of your Provincial Executive Council, my sincere duty has always been to work hard in the best interest of teachers. In light of my dedication and commitment to the job I was elected to do, I feel that I have impacted positively on all the committees on which I have served. For example, as the Teacher Certification Committee undertakes the task of a regulation review, I am ever mindful of the impact that impending changes may have on our teaching careers. The contents of the document, New Directions for Teacher Certification: A Proposed Model for Self Governance, presented during our February 2000 Joint Council meeting continues to be our focus position. In order to acquire all the gains we rightfully deserve, we must work together for the common good of all. With unity comes strength!

At BGM 1999 the delegates requested our Association to conduct a poll to inform teachers of a new direction that our Parliament was considering in electing our president and vice-president. During the process, as chairperson of the Province Wide Vote Committee and as your representative at CTF, much has been learnt from teachers and other affiliates who have already implemented this election procedure. Now, as an Association, we must be vigilant in highlighting the complexities of these two very important administrative offices. If our Association is to remain vibrant, innovative and visionary, these two profiled positions must have the best possible leadership. While this democratic process will continue to be discussed and debated during this BGM, delegates must ensure that the views and wishes of all teachers are well represented.

With teacher supply and demand reaching a critical stage, we have to ensure that our high standard of excellence is safeguarded. Being cognizant of teacher shortages, we need to build in more incentives to attract young people into the teaching profession and keep them in our province. We have to continuously build bridges and create partnerships with all the other agencies that have an impact on our education system. Our involvement with the Canadian Teachers' Federation must remain strong to allow us another forum in which to share ideas and common concerns with our fellow teachers across this nation.

The workload issue at the school level continues to be a major concern for your Association. The independent workload study undertaken by the NLTA, the Department of Education and the NLSBA will go a long way in highlighting the current needs prevalent at the classroom level. A similar study completed last year by an Ad Hoc Committee of the School Administrators' Benefits Committee brought to the forefront the demands of principals and vice-principals. Both of these studies are very timely as we continue this current round of collective bargaining.

Keep the faith!

Charles Harkins

I am running for the NLTA presidency to offer you leadership which is committed to reinvigorating our Association. To achieve this, first and foremost we must implement the clearly expressed desire of the membership to have a province-wide vote for President and Vice-President of the NLTA.

The ability of our Association to be effective in representing our interests as teachers is directly proportional to the unity, resolve and the participation of teachers as active members of the Association. This cohesiveness can only be achieved by insuring that all teachers are involved in the affairs of the Association in a meaningful way. I strongly believe that for most teachers, this means that each individual member must have an equal voice in setting our goals and selecting our leaders.

A different style of leadership is needed to meet today's challenges. My kind of leadership is not afraid to challenge old assumptions and offer new perspectives. This is how I have conducted myself in past debates on Association fees, pensions, province-wide elections, and on Pathways. Our leadership must understand that our Association needs to evolve to deal effectively with changing circumstance. We must develop new and more effective strategies for achieving our goals. Continued bargaining where we follow the old rules while government rewrites the rules as they go will not achieve the kind of success in negotiations that teachers want and deserve.

I offer you my experience, hard work and a fresh perspective. Should you elect me president you will be voting for a different way of doing things. It will be one that will strengthen the NLTA and make it more effective in representing teachers. It will be leadership dedicated to making our Association more open and more responsive to the teachers for whom it exists.

Election Statement

My intense involvement in my community and my Province has always been motivated by my belief that status quo political and economic forces do not serve the interests of all people. The decision to offer myself for President of NLTA is driven somewhat by the same belief.

I believe that public education in general, and teachers in particular, have borne the brunt of blame for everything from dropout rates to debts and deficits. Unrelenting and unfounded attacks by certain political and business interests have diminished public trust in education as well as eroded the wages and working conditions of teachers. The cancellation of "negotiated" wage increases and the calling of a Provincial election on the backs of teachers by Clyde Wells represent the kind of insidious assaults to which I refer.

I believe it is time to reverse the trend of education and teacher bashing. I want to initiate a process of restoring trust and confidence in public education as well as honor and respect for teaching! To accomplish this, I offer a new style of leadership and a new vision of a teacher union/association. It is a form of unionism that would compel teachers to concern themselves with issues of equity and social justice affecting those we teach as well as those of our own. I have alluded to this style of unionism in past Joint Councils. I am aware that it is a concept being debated in other parts of North America. Bob Peterson, writing in Rethinking Schools, describes this type of unionism as maintaining “the need for protection of basic teacher rights and teacher self-interest but recognizes that the long-term interests of teachers rest in unions becoming more professional and taking up issues of social justice.”

Implementing a vision is a long-term initiative. Before taking up this lofty goal, my first and main priority would be securing a satisfactory collective agreement. Teachers have identified salary and working conditions as top priority during this round. All my energies would be devoted to achieving these goals with the least disruption to teachers' lives.

Being President of the NLTA is, among other things, about leadership. My concept of a leader is one who is in front of those she/he leads but not too far ahead to be out of touch. As your leader, I would offer new ideas and new direction but proceed only after building consensus. My actions would be guided by the Provincial Executive, Joint Council and ultimately by you – the members. I would be a strong public advocate for teachers and teachers' issues. As in all my past leadership positions, I will bring honesty, sincerity, intensity, empathy and boldness. As your President, I would endeavor to fulfill your aspirations and hopes in a manner that earns your trust and respect.

Clem Ted Murphy

The NLTA is a proud organization whose strong past is directly related to the diverse nature of our membership and organization. The common founding goals of protecting teachers' rights, improving working conditions, and developing a stronger Association have been our greatest strengths.

Because of my belief in our various strengths, I have been an active member since I started teaching in Happy Valley-Goose Bay in 1978. For 22 years, I have been proud to say “I am a teacher” and proud, not only of my life in the classroom, but of my involvement with our Association. While fulfilling my duties as a classroom teacher, I have also served at both the Branch and Provincial Executive levels, and feel confident in my abilities and experience to seek the position of President of the NLTA.

My personal goal has always been to improve our working conditions. The classroom is my working environment, and I have seen my control of that environment diminish due to societal changes which have elevated the rights of educational partners beyond educators themselves. As teachers, we find ourselves stressed attempting to implement programs into an already overloaded curriculum without proper and sufficient professional development. I have witnessed – as you have – the balancing of budgets, whether they be Government, Board or school, take precedence over actual teaching; the documentation paper chase become more important than actual teaching; our salaries erode to the point where teaching is no longer an economically attractive profession for our young people. I know – as you do – that we are in the middle, not at the start, of a national teacher shortage.

These are very alarming trends which must stop! But how?

I believe that, as an Association, we have already commenced the struggle to halt, and eventually reverse, these directions. Since becoming an Executive member, I have seen our Association go through an era of positive growth. We have developed the structure of Joint Council and formalized the importance of school representatives. Both changes have strengthened the Branch structure while giving accountability to its membership. This Convention will evolve to include a province-wide vote for President, Vice-President and Executive. Structurally, we are ready to take on the challenge of bottom-line decision making.

We have recently entered into a new round of Collective Bargaining. As with previous opening packages, these are lists of immediate needs which will help us achieve a number of our goals. But they are not enough, even if we are successful in achieving every article. We must continue to struggle to place the emphasis where it belongs – back in the classroom.

I also believe the future of our Association is closely tied to how we use the technologies available to us. Teachers will continue to be the main resource but we must become more adept at using technology for the benefit of our students and ourselves. In schools all across Atlantic Canada, common curriculums are being developed for all four provinces. Schools within the same school boards are being directed as to what and when to teach and how to evaluate, yet very little collaboration is occurring to help each other. The technology is in place, yet hundreds of teachers go home every day preparing classes for tomorrow without any knowledge of how others outside their schools are tackling the same lessons. A central database or secured web site – an intranet – collecting lesson plans, worksheets, resource material and evaluation devices would greatly ease the workload for our teachers. I believe that, in a short period of time, the database could include collaboration with all Atlantic Provinces teacher organizations. Technology can serve as a tool to benefit us all.

Technology as a tool for the professional development of teachers is an obvious asset as it allows us to access the world, select what we need and adapt it to our curriculum and classrooms. The format may be a personal one, a group endeavour, or take the shape of chat rooms. Guest speakers could be invited to present and we could interact from our homes or schools.

The use of technology as a unifying communication tool to help ease the workload of teachers and to unify our Association, is its greatest asset, in my opinion.

I believe that to develop an effective, strong and united organization which is proactive and not reactionary, which looks to the future with optimism while not forgetting the past, requires strong leadership. It requires a leader:

- with a vast experience and working knowledge of the Association;
- with a proven record of taking on difficult issues and attaining results;
- who is a team player who collaborates, consults and achieves consensus;
- with a mission for fellow teachers;
- who accepts responsibility and believes in accountability.

I am that leader.

Position Statement

*We mean to make things over
We're tired of toil for naught
But bare enough to live on;
Never an hour for thought.
We want to feel the sunshine
We want to smell the flowers
We're sure that God has willed it
And we mean to have eight hours.*

It's ironic that a song sung by the Knights of Labor and other workers fighting for the eight hour day in 1886 should have such significance when we think of our lives as teachers today. While the workers for whom the song was a battle cry have gained control over the length of their working day, we have seen ours grow until it has taken over our personal lives. As professionals, we should have time for continued learning; as human service workers, we need the time to refresh and prepare ourselves for the next challenge and as human beings we must have time for our family and personal lives.

Legislation and limited wage increases over the past ten years have ensured that our take home pay has grown inversely with our workload. With our take home pay now worth nearly 15% less than it was ten years ago, it is time to make some significant gains in salary as well. The challenge for us is to throw off the sense of guilt imposed on us and demand, as other unions have, that our income must be realigned with the level of responsibility assigned to us and the value of the work performed.

The next two years will bring new challenges, not the least of which will be asserting ourselves as critical contributors to the economic well being of this province. While we are no longer faced with the massive crises of reform, we are daily faced with a less conspicuous erosion of the quality of our work lives. Board policies tie our hands in dealing with disruptive students, the department implements new programs without adequate resources, and society in general, takes less and less responsibility for providing positive growth experiences for its children. We have spent thousands of dollars and innumerable hours acquiring the expertise to be professional educators. We cannot allow that expertise to be dismissed while bureaucrats make illogical and unworkable plans for the education system of this province.

If we are to be successful in making the improvements we deserve, we will need to restore our collective self esteem and become more vocal in expressing our professional opinion about what should happen in education today. I assure you I am proud of the work we do and have no qualms about promoting our interests publicly. As an executive member for the past four years, I have worked diligently to bring teacher's concerns to executive table. I have listened attentively to the issues raised at Joint Council meetings, at branch meetings and in staff rooms in my district. I have helped ensure that your concerns about workload and salary were addressed in the opening package for this round of negotiations. I believe that we must stand firm in our demands for more realistic hours of work and for more reasonable compensation for the work we do.

Our next president must be someone who can empathize with the regular classroom teacher and someone who has the courage and tenacity to speak out and act on behalf of all NLTA members. I assure you I have these characteristics and I ask for your support in my bid for the presidency of this Association.

Position Statement

I have a dream, a dream of a strong, united membership consisting of the best minds this province has to offer, striving for the highest excellence, and accepting not less.

I envision an equal partnership between a vigorous governing Executive, and a dedicated governing Joint Council, truly representing every region of the province.

Doctors and nurses are responsible for the health of Canadians; Law enforcement protects Canadians; We are responsible for the well being, growth, and education of every child and student in Canada, and should be recognized for our contribution to society. We are parents, social workers, coaches, educators ... we give our all, the unspoken heroes.

I believe in equality and respect of individual differences ... freedom of thought, freedom of speech, freedom of action. Every voice should be heard.

I don't understand "No"... I don't believe in "Can't"... I know everything is possible.

We are the best, we deserve the best!

You may think I'm a "long shot", but "long shots" pay off big time, take a chance.

Position Statement

I seek the office of vice-president with an agenda that has been established by teachers. The issues are myriad but can be grouped under headings such as the Collective Bargaining Process, Professional Development and Communication.

Collective bargaining made substantial gains for teachers when the employer bargained in good faith. Throughout the last decade successive governments have failed to do so. As a result, teacher salaries have not kept pace with the cost of living while workload and class size have increased. Change, designed by theorists and trimmed to fit a fiscal rather than a human agenda, has been thrust upon our education system. The voice of the practitioner has been ignored. This trend must be reversed if trust in the bargaining process is to be restored. Autonomy, adequate remuneration and a manageable workload are vital to our status and development as professionals.

Professional development opportunities are almost non-existent. New programs are introduced with little or no inservicing. This increases teacher workload and stress, abdicates students' needs and compromises the quality of learning. Aside from NLTA sponsored PD there have been few opportunities for teachers to remain current or to grow professionally. "The Virtual Teacher Centre", spearheaded by NLTA and co-funded by government, is a welcome change in this regard. We will continue to explore such creative initiatives and to communicate the positive effect of PD upon teachers and students.

Communication is vital because it helps define how we see ourselves, our Association and how others perceive us. We should continue to build strong communications with branches and with teachers in the field. We must be transparent in the governance and operation of NLTA. The approach taken by the Collective Bargaining Team, directed by the President, Executive and Joint Council is a recent example of the type of leadership and communications that I endorse. The initiatives we have taken with our radio and TV ads is also a step in the right direction. They reflect the voice of the practitioner in communicating the value of teachers in our society. These ads make us feel that our efforts are appreciated and foster a growing positive image of teachers in the public consciousness.

I believe strongly that an NLTA agenda is to be set by members through their elected representatives – Joint Council, BGM and Provincial Executive. The challenge of leadership is to find the ways and means to meet the goals members set for their Association. I thank you and respectfully request your support in carrying your agenda forward as vice-present of NLTA and as a strong voice for teachers.

Position Statement

A recent headline in the Globe and Mail read "You're good enough, you're smart enough, and darn it, you need a raise". I am tempted to end this with "enough said". I want to remind teachers that the above is true and to tell them why I think it is true.

Whether we have acknowledged it or not it could be said that we underwent a change similar to the Quiet Revolution. And, as teachers were the main agents in this change. Suffice it is to say that results are showing that our students are demonstrating that they can perform on the world stage. We have done more than was expected of us and we are still willing to adopt new approaches that will impact more of our students. Knowing these things we ought to confidently stand tall and demand to be remunerated in a manner befitting our place in society.

The past year or so has seen parts of our province experiencing teacher shortages. All indications are that this is the thin edge of the wedge. We are losing our graduates to the higher salaries and greater benefits of other parts of the world. As a result, we are just beginning to see the shortage of both regular teachers and substitutes. This will result in greater demands on remaining teachers and until the people of this province are willing to remunerate us on a higher scale, the trend will continue. Let us remind them of that.

The NLTA is a large entity as unions go in this province and in order to be effective it has to accurately reflect the wishes and needs of members. Because of my respect for accurate representation I don't want to be guessing the needs and wants of teachers. I want to know exactly what they are and to that end I see an Association that puts in place mechanisms that allow us to determine, within our fiscal realities, the directions NLTA ought to be taking.

Besides taking care of the everyday items that demand long hours and hard work, the leaders of our Association often have to exercise objectivity, fairness and justice, an understanding of the issues and a commitment to work as a team. My experience over the past number of years at both the Branch and Executive levels have demonstrated that I exhibit these qualities and continue to do so.

Like most skills it takes time to fully grasp the know-how to lead an Association as large as ours. I now have the experience and skills necessary to take on the responsibility of Vice-President of this Association. I ask for your support to do so.

Wayne is a past provincial president of the Newfoundland and Labrador High School Athletic Federation, has chaired the Stephenville Recreation Advisory Council, has been president of the Stephenville Tennis Club and is currently president of the Indian Head Coop in Stephenville.

Wayne has been active in promoting province-wide voting for president of the NLTA as well as a member of several provincial NLTA committees.

Position Statement

I believe that the NLTA must evolve into an association that is responsive to the changing needs of teachers in our province. Building on over 100 years of history, the NLTA must once again take its place as a major influence on teaching and learning in Newfoundland and Labrador.

To that end, we must involve the membership as never before. Fortunately we live in a time where technology allows this. We can consult with teachers, seek input, receive direction and generally be responsive on an ongoing basis.

As vice-president of the NLTA I want to be your voice at the negotiating table, in the media and in setting a path for the future.

Contract negotiations provide the only real opportunity for teachers to improve their personal and professional lives. The current round is a pivotal one. The political and economic climate of the province make this an opportune time to realize the needs of teachers. As vice-president I will chair the negotiating team and ensure that the problems teachers experience are addressed.

The perception of the NLTA by the public is a matter that concerns us all. The media can be a method of disseminating our positions on educational matters to the public. As vice-president I will work with the president to ensure that the voices of teachers are heard.

We must have a clear vision as to where we, as teachers, and the NLTA, our Association, is going. We must plan for the future, anticipate change and be prepared to respond to it. As vice-president, and with your help, we can use our Association to ensure a bright future.

Together we can make the NLTA a major player in the future of our province and in improving the lives of teachers. I humbly ask for your support in this endeavour.

Statement

Teachers have spoken very clearly: the issues of salary and workload are the two priorities that have to be dealt with effectively during this round of negotiations. These areas, of course, encompass a variety of related issues which in turn must be resolved. Over the past ten years we've experienced little or no salary increases, an expanding workload and a higher number of disruptive students. We continue to have a lack of timely inservicing and experience difficulty in securing release time. While we may have had some successes in addressing some of the above, they have been of the piecemeal and band-aid variety. A stronger contract for all teachers is obviously necessary.

To consistently derive satisfaction in our professional lives and to accomplish goals in the classroom, we need smaller class sizes and proper resourcing of schools – both personnel and otherwise. In our private lives, we deserve that substantial salary increase, so we're not up to our necks in debt and can afford a decent existence for ourselves and our families. The financial stress must be removed and the classroom issues solved. We know we are entitled to and deserve these improvements, but it will only be by standing together that we achieve significant gains.

I am seeking the office of Vice-President of our Association as I believe I can work with our President and executive team to offer you strong representation, clarity of purpose and a vision for our future – a future of renewed respect and enjoyment in the classroom on a daily basis. Unified and focused, the NLTA is a powerful body, and capable of securing a vastly improved collective agreement.

Having taught the past 19 years and teaching with administrative duties during the last 10, I have learned a great deal about teachers, schools and our Association. I have felt privileged to work on your behalf and with our NLTA executive and staff during the last two years. I have worked hard for your interests. Allow me to fight for you to further your rights and enhance your protection as a professional body. I dedicate all of my energy, experience and abilities to the task. Thank you.

Community Involvement

- Royal Canadian Legion, Branch 32, Bay Roberts

Mr. Dale (my Grade 7 teacher, and the person most responsible for my being a teacher) was in his element when he walked inside that classroom door. For 26 years now, I've walked inside my own doors, and I know I belong there, too. It is that feeling of belonging that has motivated me to take these extra steps. Like the community service so many of us give, I would like to offer my services to my own special community – that of my students and my colleagues. That is why I have decided to seek the office of Vice-President of NLTA.

These past ten years of branch involvement, and most recently with the Provincial Executive, have taught me that one can never be wrong if you stick to your roots – the classrooms and staffrooms of this province. They offer the foundation and guidance needed to make tough decisions. In addition, these years have shown me the effort required to get things done.

From my classroom I see simple uncomplicated workload issues. More crowded classrooms. Teachers seeking ways to supplement dwindling resources. My curriculum development experience reveals inadequate preparation of new programs. We need more teacher involvement, more time for professional development, more resources, less of a top-down process. We've had the Pathways experience to serve as an example. Our administrators have been so burdened with bureaucracy and management that we've lost track of that notion of them being our instructional leaders.

As we embark on the latest round of negotiations our approach must reflect our self-esteem – and our worth! Of course, we must address our workload, our resources, our PD time, but also our very health and welfare. We must communicate these issues, not just with formal and imaginative media campaigns, but at every opportunity in front of government, the public, parents, special interest groups and our own membership. We must be visible – to be seen proud of who we are.

Our Association is truly at a crossroads, which is appropriate as we enter the new millennium. We've watched the changing demographics of our membership as so many of us reach retirement. Our youngest members face challenges different than those of us who began our careers 20 years ago. Not surprisingly, many challenges remain the same! We've witnessed the evolution of our Association to the verge of province-wide voting. That means greater accountability, greater responsibility and greater democracy for both the elected and the electors. Many more decisions remain.

Because my roots are so deep in the classroom, I will always ask, "How does this issue affect me, the teacher? Will it help? Will it only obstruct?" That is the mantra I will always recite.

Colleagues, I want to be your negotiator, your cheerleader, your spokesperson, your advocate. I hope you will consider me equal to the task.

Bruce Burton

How does one speak about himself truthfully and still be modest? First the facts; the embellishments come later.

I grew up in Corner Brook and attended Herdman Collegiate and First Year Arts at Regina High School. Torn between immediate gratification and common sense I attended Memorial University pursuing a Physical Education degree. However, it was not to be. After a year I opted for the money and went to work at the paper mill in Corner Brook and later became a full time fire fighter at the Corner Brook Fire Department where I worked for ten "very exciting", but on occasion boring, years. Eventually the lure of another career pulled me to Grenfell College where I entered into a long process of becoming educated while still being employed at the fire hall. In 1980 I took a leave of absence and attended MUN to complete a B.A. and B.Ed. When completed I returned to Corner Brook where I worked at the fire hall for a few months before leaving to teach at Herdman Collegiate. To add to my History degree I completed a second major in English but alas, I had to leave my birth place and move to Wabush, Labrador in order to avoid the unemployment ranks (remember the 80's and declining enrolments). Not fully adapting to the North my family and I left and eventually ended up in Port aux Basques. At present I am Social Studies Department Head at St. James High. In 1994 I completed a Master's Degree in Learning Resources (resources centres are no longer in vogue – something to do with allocations). Thus, my educational history.

Outside the classroom I am involved in a number of community activities: Hospital Foundation, Lions, Toastmasters, Church, Curling, and I like Bridge but I love golf. Since 1999 I have been the President for Port aux Basques Branch. As a result of this closer involvement with NLTA I want to become more active and Provincial Executive seems a logical progression. My varied work experiences (I helped negotiate contracts at the fire hall and served on the Union executive) will allow me to bring a new perspective to Provincial Executive.

And there you have it – I feel like the emperor without his clothes. In any event I will do my best to serve the interests of the NLTA should you decide to trust my judgement. Thank you.

Dana graduated from Memorial University with a B.A. and B.Ed. He taught in Jackson's Arm, White Bay (1973-74), Deer Lake (1977-90), and is presently teaching in Pasadena.

Dana's NLTA involvement started in his first year teaching when he was a charter member and communications officer of Taylor's Brook Branch. Throughout his teaching career his involvement at the branch level in Deer Lake, included School Board-Teacher Liaison Committee, communications officer, political action officer, secretary, treasurer, vice-president and president. Provincial committees included Collective Bargaining Legislation Review and Professional Issues in Teaching. He is currently an NLTA Provincial Executive member (1999-2001) serving on four committees: Finance and Property, Group Insurance, Educational Leave, and Deferred Salary Leave.

Community involvement has paralleled Dana's teaching career. He was a director of the Humber Valley Development Association for 12 years. He served on many sub-committees including committee for the development of the Humber Valley Strawberry Festival, planning and developing a Museum and Heritage Centre, and Job Re-entry for Women. He was a member of the Deer Lake Library Board for 15 years.

Diane Curtis

Statement

A quality work environment is crucial to the life of a teacher. Adverse working conditions, like disruptive students, lack of professional development opportunities and increased workload, create negativism and apathy. The overall feeling that a teacher is not an asset to students and education but rather a liability to the government, demoralizes educators.

The time has come for teachers to be recognized as professionals. Teacher morale will increase when teachers are paid fairly, able to access continuous professional development and have a work environment that provides quality experiences.

During the past two years I have acted on my commitment to work on behalf of all teachers, pursuing the tenets of a quality workday, fair remuneration and increased membership involvement. With my interest, experience and understanding, I feel I can continue to provide strong leadership in the decision-making needed to address teacher issues.

Diane Curtis

Originally from Corner Brook, Diane and her husband, Lloyd, moved to Jackson's Arm in 1975 where they have worked and raised their family. Diane has completed a B.A.(Ed) and a M.Ed. in Educational Leadership with a thesis related to Multi-Age Education. During her 22 year career, she has taught at most grade levels and held a principal's position for seven years in two small schools. She is presently teaching a multi-age $\frac{3}{4}$ class with duties in French for Grades 5 and 6 at Main River Academy, a K-12 school in Pollard's Point, White Bay.

At the district level, Diane was part of the policy committee on multi-age education. She has attended inservice sessions on Multi-Age Teaching and Readers' and Writers' Workshop which she uses in her classroom. She will be participating in the Multi-Age Online Professional Development Project – a federally funded project which includes three school districts, the NLTA and STEM-Net.

At her own school, Diane is involved in the Learning Through the Arts program which brings various artists into the classroom to help deliver the curriculum; she has started the Kids Eat Smart program, and has coordinated parent volunteers. She is an executive member of the local literacy council, and is on the board of directors for the Tree House Family Resource Center in Deer Lake.

Diane has been an active member of the Taylor's Brook Branch of the NLTA throughout her teaching career. She has held various positions on the local executive including five years as branch president. She was part of the NLTA Ad Hoc Committee on New School Construction and is presently serving a second year as chair of the School Board-Teacher Liaison Committee for School District #3.

Professional Background and Experience

Paul Matthews holds a BPE, B.Ed., M.Ed. and a TESL Certificate. He is enjoying his 19th year of teaching at Booth Memorial High School, St. John's, where he is currently Head, Department of English. Paul has taught at various sites including all-grade, junior high and senior high school in rural and urban settings.

As a member of the NLTA, Paul has been involved in promoting the professional and personal well-being of teachers through his role as school representative, branch executive member and Branch President for the past three terms. He has served on three provincial standing committees, represented the NLTA on the Teacher-Employer Liaison Committee for four years and currently serves on the Negotiations Team that is in place for the current round of negotiations.

Position Statement

The Association faces enormous challenges in many directions and on various levels for all members, especially those of us who will be honoured by your endorsement to provincial executive. Fast on the heels of province-wide reorganization and consolidation have come top-down initiatives compounded by a down-loading, site-management approach which have serious negative impacts on teachers professionally and personally. Introduction of new curricula without adequate or even cursory professional development, as well as implementation of the Pathways initiative without the essential supports and resources, represent examples of the most recent problems.

In isolation, these issues have placed cumbersome, additional workload responsibilities. However, add the onerous levels of student supervision, lack of preparation time, unregulated class sizes and composition, multi-level grouping, etc. ... all to be addressed in a work day defined only by the employer, and one can finally glimpse what it means to be taken for granted! The end result is the crisis situation now facing us. It is time we took a more self-protective approach and regain control of our professional and personal lives. As our students would appreciate ... we must 'get a life'!

I have worked with and have great respect for the abilities and contributions of all my colleagues featured in this special issue of The Bulletin. These fine educators would compose a superior leadership team. I would be pleased to be part of our new executive and request your consideration and support. experienced in the past and the ones we may face in the new millennium.

This Association has awesome challenges ahead – Salaries, Pension Indexing, Violence in the Schools, Teacher Workload and Changing Demographics, to name just a few. These challenges will require some very tough decisions and the members of this Association deserve a competent and prudent decision-making team and Ed Moore should be a part of that team.

Ed is deeply concerned about these issues and he is committed to giving strong representation to you, the membership, if you choose to elect him to the Provincial Executive. He will work diligently on your behalf and will offer his time, energy, and experience to the teachers of this province.

Ed, who is now living in Southeast Placentia with his wife Mary and their three children – Kaila, Devon, and Jeremy – asks for your support to serve as a member of the NLTA Provincial Executive to meet the many challenges that face educators throughout this 21st century.

Resolutions to Convention

Category A: Professional Development

Curriculum for Primary Grades

1. That religion, health, and social studies be incorporated into the Language Arts and Math programs in Kindergarten and primary classes. (Humber)
Explanatory Note: This would allow music and physical education time allocations to remain the same or be increased.
2. That Kindergarten and primary physical education and music allocations remain the same or be increased. (Humber)
Explanatory Note: Studies show these activities enhance problem solving ability and general academic performance.

Provision of Textbooks and Resources

3. That NLTA insist the Department of Education provide all recommended resources and textbooks to deliver our Department of Education's curriculum. (St. John's Centre)
Explanatory Note: For example, a science text and teacher resource are required at the Grade 4-6 levels. As a classroom teacher, it is extremely time-consuming and financially draining to develop the daily lesson plans required and to provide the materials needed. Without the required resources, the task is Herculean.

Pathways

4. That the NLTA lobby the Department of Education re changes to the Pathways documents to allow for the inclusion of an area of exceptional-ity under a new heading of socio-economic factors. (St. John's Centre)
Explanatory Note: A number of students are unable to receive the programs/skills support offered by special education settings because they do not fit neatly into the rigid and narrow parameters set down. These students frequently enter the education system without the prerequisite skills, without parental support and/or guidance. They quickly fall behind their peers and, all too often, fall between the cracks.

Category B: Association

Negotiating Team

5. That at least 50% of the negotiating team be made up of classroom teachers. (Ganovia)

NLTA Staff and Services to Teachers

6. That the NLTA Executive form an ad hoc committee to review and re-evaluate the deployment of NLTA staff and delivery of services to teachers. (Ganovia)

Branch Amalgamation

7. That NLTA force amalgamation of branches where geographically feasible. (Ganovia)

Explanatory Note: This would be a cost-saving measure.

Paid Alternates at Convention

8. That NLTA discontinue the policy of paid alternates to the BGM for branches with populations under 100. (Ganovia)

Explanatory Note: This would be a cost-saving measure.

NLTA Fee Structure

9. That NLTA investigate the possibility of having a "flat rate" as a fee structure for its members. (Ganovia)

Category C: Benefits and Economic Services

Negotiations

10. That negotiations for the upcoming year 2001 be concluded before the old contract expires. (Ganovia)

Shop Steward System

11. That NLTA establish shop stewards at each site where teachers are employed in the province. (Humber)

Workplace Safety Committees

12. That a teacher representative be a member of each Workplace Safety Committee.

(Rushoon-Terrenceville)

Explanatory Note: Other unions have members on this committee to bring their issues of concern. We do not and this should be rectified.

Teacher Vacancies

13. That, notwithstanding current collective agreement articles regarding redundancies, layoffs, and transfers, all new vacancies in the province be subject to seniority on a province-wide basis. (Notre Dame)

Explanatory Note: The provincial government employs all teachers in the province of Newfoundland and Labrador and the denominational school system has been dismantled. There is no longer a reason for school boards to distinguish between prospective teachers other than academic qualifications and experience.

The present hiring practices of school boards are unfair to teachers employed by other boards. We work for the various school boards across the province, but really our true employer is the government. Yet, teachers with other boards receive no priority for hiring when vacant positions are available. For example, if the Avalon East School Board, after all transfer and redundancies are taken care of, has twenty or thirty positions that need to be filled, then that board will hire its own past substitutes and replacement teachers first. The collective agreement [Clause 6.12(b)] requires that they be considered before applicants from other boards. These could be teachers with only a few days seniority to a few years. This is unfair! There may be many veteran teachers across our province who would like one of these positions. After all, these teachers are part of the same association and have paid their "dues". This could work for any teacher who wishes to move to another district. There are many teachers in the province who would really appreciate an opportunity to move to other areas of this province.

This resolution will not affect redundancies, transfer within boards, or the layoff pool as these would still be taken care of first, before positions are advertised in a province wide paper.

Employee Assistance Program

14. That the Employee Assistance Program contribute to proactive programs such as fitness/health club membership. (Exploits Valley)

15. That the base rate for reimbursement of counselling fees under the Employee Assistance Program be revisited to reflect today's rates. (Ganovia)

Explanatory Note: The cost to see most "professionals" has increased drastically while the reimbursement under EAP has remained relatively low.

Unpaid Leaves

16. That teachers be able to avail of unpaid leave for an unspecified number of days if a suitable substitute is available. (Exploits Valley)

Explanatory Note: Teaching is the only profession where time off is set. If leave is unpaid, government is still only paying one person for a job, and a person who otherwise would not be working is given employment.

Compassionate/Family Leave

17. That Article 18.01 re compassionate/family leave be amended to read: "A teacher shall be entitled to leave not exceeding five (5) days... Where travel is involved or extraordinary circumstances prevail, the school board may extend the leave up to an additional three (3) days." (Exploits Valley)

Explanatory Note: The existing leave does not address the emotional needs of teachers in the event of the death of a loved one.

Teacher Allocations

18. That teaching units be allocated based on programs not student numbers. (Exploits Valley)
19. That larger schools not be penalized because of the allocation given to smaller schools. (Exploits Valley)

Pensions

20. That NLTA enter into negotiations with government regarding a reciprocal transfer of pensions from the Canadian Armed Forces and all other federal departments. (Humber)

Specialist Bonuses

21. That Article 30.05 of the opening package for the current round of negotiations be amended by adding "home economic teachers" at a ratio of 250:1. (Ganova)

Explanatory Note: Home economics is an extremely important speciality area in developing the whole child. There are home economics specialists in the province, and they should not be excluded from the list of specialists.

Remuneration for Attendance at Meetings

22. That any remuneration paid to one member of the Association to attend meetings be applied to all members who attend the same committee meetings (e.g. school council meetings). (Ganova)

Teachers on Public Exam Marking Board

23. That the NLTA seek to be the bargaining agent for people employed as markers on Public Exam Marking Boards. (St. John's Centre)

Summer School/Night School Teachers

24. That the NLTA seek to be the bargaining agent for teachers employed by school boards for teaching courses in the provincial curriculum at summer school and/or night school. (St. John's Centre)

Explanatory Note for Resolutions 23 and 24: All members of such boards and teaching staffs are association members. They are working the role of teacher with their employer, yet they do not earn near their reg- ular scale of pay. Insofar as this is a major year for the reinstatement of public exams, quick action is required.

Teaching Assignment Changes

25. That teachers remaining on staff be given teaching assignments for the coming year in writing before the end of the current school year. (Southern Shore)
26. That where changes have to be made to a teaching assignment after the end of the current school year, teachers be notified three weeks prior to the opening of the new school year. (Southern Shore)

Group Insurance

27. That if there is a delay in obtaining a specialist appointment and another specialist at a greater distance is available at an earlier time, the group insurance travel subsidy be applied to the latter. (Ganova)

Current Policy Resolutions

Supervision of Students

28. That teachers no longer be expected to supervise during lunch hour. (Exploits Valley)

Explanatory Note: It is not in a teacher's job description. The government should pay people to perform these duties similar to what is happening in some other provinces.

Pensions

29. That all university service in the education field be counted as worked service for the purposes of pension. (Exploits Valley)

Explanatory Note: All teachers who went to university with or without an interruption would have their university years counted as teaching years. Everyone would be treated equally. Right now if you didn't finish your degree, went teaching, and went back to university, you have an advantage.

30. That the surviving spouse of an NLTA member be eligible to receive 70% of the pension of the deceased teacher. (Humber)

Notice of Motion for By-Law Change at the 2003 BGM

31. That the President and Vice-President be elected by all members of the NLTA. (Exploits Valley)

Proposed NLTA Act and By-Law Changes

Eighteen proposed changes to the NLTA Act and By-Laws meet the voting requirements for the 2001 BGM. Five of these proposals result from resolutions submitted by branches to the 1999 BGM which did not satisfy the required notice of three months for by-law changes in order to be voted on at that BGM. These proposed changes will appear on the BGM agenda as Business Arising from the 1999 BGM.

However, regarding Resolution 101 from the 1999 BGM, it is the intention of the Notre Dame Branch to withdraw this motion. Instead, the Notre Dame Branch has submitted specific wording for proposed changes to three sections of the NLTA Act and three By-Laws. Also, the Nutak Labradorimi Branch has informed the Association that the branch has withdrawn Resolutions 102 and 103 from the 1999 BGM.

There is also one proposed change to the NLTA Act and one proposed change to the NLTA By-Laws being presented by the Provincial Executive.

In addition, prior to the deadline for receipt of by-law changes for the 2001 BGM, the Waterford Valley Branch submitted one proposed change to the NLTA Act and two proposed by-law changes and the Burin-Marystown Branch submitted two proposed by-law changes.

In considering these proposed Act and By-Law changes, you are reminded that a two-thirds majority is required in order for these changes to be carried. A motion to table these changes would require a simple majority.

A: Notice of Motion for By-Law Change from the 1999 BGM

99. That By-Law III.B. (Privileges of Active Membership) be amended by adding a new subsection to read: "No teacher shall be excluded from a meeting of Joint Council unless Joint Council is discussing a personal matter regarding a teacher or staff person of NLTA."

(Waterford Valley)

Recommendation from Provincial Executive:
DEFEAT

Rationale for Executive's Recommendation:

Joint Council has evolved into a decision-making body of some significance within the NLTA structure over the past several years. The nature of the issues that it deals with from time to time require the group to be able to take decisions in a confidential context (via in-camera sessions) to protect the integrity of matters that come before it. In the past, Joint Council, by means of motions from within its membership, has had occasion to move to in-camera session in order to deal with issues relating to things such as collective bargaining. This was done to ensure that all members of the Association received information in a fair and timely manner and that no one group of teachers was given an unfair advantage merely because they happen to live within close proximity of the site of a Joint Council meeting.

100. That By-Law III.B. (Privileges of Active Membership) be amended by adding a new subsection to read: "No teacher shall be excluded from a meeting of Provincial Executive unless Executive is discussing a personal matter regarding a teacher or staff person of NLTA." (Waterford Valley)

Recommendation from Provincial Executive:
DEFEAT

Rationale for Executive's Recommendation:

It is essential that the Provincial Executive Council maintain its ability to hold in-camera sessions to deal with issues that extend beyond the category of “personal matters regarding a teacher or staff person of NLTA”. The nature of business that comes before the Executive often requires frank and open dialogue and deals with information that must be kept in confidence; this is essential so as not to compromise the integrity of the Association’s ability to conduct its affairs in a responsible manner.

101. That there be a province-wide voting for Provincial Executive. (Notre Dame)

As previously noted, the Association has been informed by the Notre Dame Branch that the branch has WITHDRAWN this resolution.

102. That the number of voting delegates at NLTA Conventions not only be based on teacher populace, but on distinct geographical regions. (Nutak Labradorimi)

103. That the Provincial Executive be equally comprised of all the different regions of Newfoundland and Labrador. (Nutak Labradorimi)

As previously noted, the Association has been informed by the Nutak Labradorimi Branch that the branch has WITHDRAWN both Resolutions 102 and 103.

B: Proposed NLTA Act and By-Law Changes from Provincial Executive

1. Section 4(B)(I) of the NLTA Act

That Section 4(b) (i) of the NLTA Act be amended by replacing the word “annual” with the words “biennial meeting or”. The section would then read: “(b) to elevate and unify the teaching profession by (i) promoting the welfare of teachers in the province by setting up and administering those subsidiary services that the biennial meeting or convention may decide,”

Recommendation from Provincial Executive:
CARRY

Rationale for Executive’s Recommendation:

Rationale for Executive's Recommendation:

The Executive Council feels strongly that this issue should be left entirely to the discretion of Convention delegates. The matter has received extensive exposure and debate leading up to and during the 1999 BGM, at which meeting the general concept received support by a simple majority of voting delegates. As well, the poll of the entire membership, which was conducted in the Spring of 2000, gave each teacher an opportunity to voice opinion on some aspects of this issue. These views should be sufficient to guide delegates at BGM 2001 as they take their decision re this most fundamental aspect of democracy within NLTA.

THE NLTA ACT

F. NO CHANGE

Recommendation from Provincial Executive on all proposed changes from the Waterford Valley Branch: NO POSITION

Rationale for Executive's Recommendation:

As with the proposed changes from the Notre Dame Branch, the Executive Council feels strongly that this issue should be left entirely to the discretion of Convention delegates. The matter has received extensive exposure and debate leading up to and during the 1999 BGM, at which meeting the general concept received support by a simple majority of voting delegates. As well, the poll of the entire membership, which was conducted in the Spring of 2000 gave each teacher an opportunity to voice opinion on some aspects of this issue. These views should be sufficient to guide delegates at BGM 2001 as they take their decision re this most fundamental aspect of democracy within NLTA.

3. PROPOSED BY-LAW CHANGES FROM THE BURIN-MARYSTOWN BRANCH

- a) That By-Law IX. – Local or Regional Branches and Special Interest Councils, of the NLTA By-Laws be amended, in Subsection E. (3) - Special Interest Councils, by replacing the words “an observer” with the words “a delegate” and by adding the words “provincial Special Interest” before the word “Council”. The new subsection would read as follows: “May send a delegate from each provincial Special Interest Council to the Provincial Association’s Convention, the cost of which to be covered by the Association’s Convention Budget.”
- b) That By-Law X. – Convention, of the NLTA By-Laws be amended to read as follows: “There shall be a biennial meeting or Convention of delegates of the Association. Delegates and members of the Executive only have the right to vote. All other members may sit in at a Convention meeting and speak but not to vote on any matter.

The Convention shall be held at such time as may be determined by the Convention. The Executive shall determine where the Convention shall be held. It may consider and accept invitations extended by the branches.

Delegates shall be elected from:

- (1) the legally constituted local and regional branches in the ratio of one to every 100 members or fraction thereof, in the branch, and
- (2) the provincial special interest councils in the ratio of one delegate per council.

(Branches shall base the number of delegates on the maximum number of teachers employed in the schools and board offices existing within the branch boundaries at any point in time during a school year, provided that such teachers are Active Members of the Association. In no case shall teachers on leave and their substitutes or replacements both count.)

A delegate to Convention shall use his/her discretionary powers as per the best interests of his/her branch/council but must speak as his/her branch/council wishes if s/he is so directed.”

Recommendation from Provincial Executive on all proposed changes from the Burin-Marystown Branch: DEFEAT

Rationale for Executive’s Recommendation:

This issue has been dealt with on previous occasions at Convention and was defeated each time.

Fundamentally, it is felt that giving council members the right to vote would, in effect, give them a type of double vote. Each member of the special interest councils is represented through the branch structure which is the Association’s parliamentary base. From this foundation come the building blocks of our system of representative government.

Councils, and their individual members, have the right of input to branches and can influence the issues and priorities that will be debated on the floor of Convention.

Furthermore, councils now have the right to submit resolutions and, although they can’t bring motions as observers, they can arrange to sit in as a branch delegate in order to bring the motion. Even if council observers are not able to find a means to move a motion, they can arrange for a branch delegate to do so and then speak to the resolution since council observers do have the right to speak at BGM.
