NLTA Executive 2005-07

GET INVOLVED

JOIN A PROVINCIAL COMMITTEE

Are you a knowledgeable, interested and committed member of your Association? President-Elect, Kevin Foley, has established a committee structure for the 2005-07 school year to assist the Provincial Executive Council in conducting the business of the Association. These committees, chaired by members of the Executive, prepare recommendations to Executive on a wide range of issues which affect both Association policy and action. The participation of teachers as members of the committees is essential in providing a link between the Executive and the membership of the Association.

Committees will meet approximately four times per year. Meetings are usually held after school hours; some may be held via teleconferencing. From time to time weekend meetings may be required. Teachers are reimbursed for out-of-pocket expenses for travel, meals and child care as per NLTA policy.

You are asked to consider volunteering to serve as a member of a committee that is of interest to you. Committee members are usually drawn from the same geographic location (within 90 km) as the chairperson.

With the permission of Executive, one committee member may be chosen from outside the geographic location provided that expenses incurred are kept within reasonable limits. Committee members are chosen by the chairperson early in September of each year. All applicants will be informed of the status of their application at that time.

Every effort will be made to have equal representation of males and females and to ensure generational equity on committees. Depending on the terms of reference of the committee, every effort will also be made to include teachers with responsibilities in various areas of the teaching profession.

If you are interested in becoming a committee member, please fill out the form on the NLTA website at www.nlta.nl.ca [click on "Forms Online" and go to "Committee Volunteer Application"] and forward it to GERALYN COSTELLO at the NLTA office by June 30. over $850 for the Janeway. The lucky homeroom was the Grade 9 class.

"It was a great week to be in HGA as the competitive spirit was alive and well," said Dave Gatehouse, a teacher at Henry Gordon Academy. "The focus almost shifted from the Janeway to the free class. In the end everyone was proud of the amount of money collected. Some students even said they had goose bumps when they heard how much money was raised."

The idea for this fundraiser came from the booklet sent to schools by the NLTA. Isn't it amazing what can happen when we all have some motivation.

Students increase fundraising efforts for Janeway Day

In an effort to increase the donations for Janeway Day, which have been in the neighbourhood of $80 - $100 each year, students and teachers at Henry Gordon Academy (HGA) in Cartwright, Labrador held a week-long competition to see which homeroom could raise the most money per student for the Janeway.

As an incentive to donate, the winning class was given the last class off on Friday afternoon. On Friday when the total was in, students and staff had raised

A great resource on careers in culture for province's youth

The Cultural Human Resources Board has launched a new website, www.careersinculture.com, to provide high school students and other youth with information on the huge range of career opportunities in the arts and heritage.

A legacy of the successful Culture Works career showcases that were held across the province in the fall of 2004, the website contains information on the great variety of cultural careers possible: everything from the technical to the managerial, to the creative, and the academic. In addition to listing career options, the website provides information on cultural training programs across Canada. One of the most interesting aspects of the site is the first hand accounts of young Newfoundlanders and Labradorians who are pursuing successful cultural careers in this province and around the world. The Cultural Human Resources Board are in the process of developing a resource section for teachers.

The website is already generating interest among young people. A student from Booth Memorial High School commented, "this site is AWESOME! It not only is attractive to my age group but it also appeals to what a lot of people my age are looking for... opportunity."

Hushh-Up a Classroom

The Canadian Hard of Hearing Association-Newfoundland and Labrador (CHHA-NL) has introduced two programs to decrease noise in classrooms throughout the province.

A significant source of noise in the classroom is that of chairs scraping on uncarpeted floors. Classroom noise is extremely detrimental to all students' abilities to hear and process auditory data and especially difficult for hard of hearing students, particularly those who wear hearing aids. A hearing aid amplifies all sounds as it is unable to distinguish between background noise and speech.

In an effort to decrease this type of noise, the Hushh-Ups pilot project was initiated in nine classrooms at St. Peter's Elementary School in Mount Pearl. Hushh-Ups are special balls that are placed on the bottom of moveable tables and chairs to eliminate the noise caused by friction with the floor. The evaluation of this pilot project has found that both students and teachers have benefitted from the use of Hushh-Ups. As a result, St. Peter's Elementary has raised funds to provide Hushh-Ups in every classroom.

At the present time there are 172 schools in the province who have mainstreamed hard of hearing students. The CHHA-NL, with the support of the Department of Education, are looking for sponsors for an Adopt-a-Classroom program to provide Hushh-Ups for every hard of hearing student in the province from Kindergarten to Grade 6.

For more information please contact the Hard of Hearing Association-Newfoundland and Labrador, Suite 103, 136 Crosbie Road, St. John's, NL, A1B 3K3, chhanl@nfld.net, www.chha-nl.nl.ca, Tel: 709-753-3224, Fax: 709-753-5640.

NLTA By-Law Change BGM Delegates Vote to Increase Membership Dues

by FRED DOUGLAS

At the NLTA Biennial General Meeting (BGM) held March 29 to April 1, a by-law change was passed to implement an increase in NLTA membership fees. This by-law amendment was carried, as required, by a two-thirds majority of the delegates to BGM. The fees will increase from 1.0% of salary and bonuses to 1.25%, effective with the first pay period in September 2005. The following provides information concerning this by-law change.

Membership fees to the NLTA are currently based upon 1.0% of salary and bonuses. When preparations for the draft NLTA budgets for 2005-06 and 2006-07 began last fall, it became apparent that there would be deficits of $615,372 and $746,400 respectively for a total projected deficit of $1,361,772 over those two budget years. Obviously, steps needed to be taken to address this shortfall.

Following the Joint Council meeting in November 2004, the NLTA Finance and Property Committee undertook a detailed analysis of the budget situation and made a number of cost-saving recommendations to the Provincial Executive when it met in January 2005.

When these recommendations were reflected in the draft budgets there remained a shortfall of $379,331 for 2005-06 and $480,400 for 2006-07, for a total projected deficit of $859,731 over the two budget years. The Finance and Property Committee considered the possibility of transferring monies from the Reserve Fund to cover the full amount of both deficits, but the magnitude of the transfer needed was prohibited by NLTA policy, and could not be sustained for any significant period. As well, no further significant reductions in expenditures could be realized without drastically cutting, or even eliminating, necessary programs and services.

Given the above, the Finance and Property Committee recommended that the membership fee be increased from 1% of salary and bonuses to 1.1% effective September 1, 2005. This would add revenues of approximately $315,000 and $305,000 for each of the two budget years 2005-06 and 2006-07. With this addition the projected deficits would be reduced to $64,331 and $175,400 respectively, for a total projected combined deficit of $239,731 which could be accessed from the Reserve Fund while staying within policy.

This proposal was accepted by Executive at its January 14-15, 2005 meeting and was subsequently presented and discussed at the February 18, 2005 Joint Council meeting. The proposed fee increase and draft budgets were then presented to delegates at BGM for their decision.

A number of other critical factors were considered in the decision to recommend a fee increase. The Association's fees have remained at the 1% level for over three decades and, in the past decade, expected increases in revenues from salary increases have been offset by a decline in the number of members. Since 1992-93, the NLTA's annual income from fees has been consistently lower than the 1990-91 fee income, while costs of delivering programs and services continue to rise. Further, as of 2004-05, NLTA membership fees are the second lowest of all teacher associations across Canada, and are much lower than many professional unions in this province.

At the BGM, many delegates felt strongly that a fee increase of .1% of salary and bonuses would not be a solution likely to address our fiscal problems beyond 2007. Concern was also expressed about some of the cuts proposed by Executive in order to live within the 1.1% fee income. There was also further discussion about the need to begin rebuilding the Emergency Fund. After considerable debate an amendment to the proposed by-law change was passed to implement a fee increase of .25% of salary, with .1% of salary directed specifically to the Emergency Fund. This by-law amendment was then carried by the required two-thirds majority. Further amendments were made to the proposed budget and a motion was passed that would require a minimum of 20 percent of any surplus in the General Fund at the end of a budget year to be deposited to the Emergency Fund. As well, an internal/external review will be conducted on all aspects of the NLTA operations in order to develop a strategic plan.

The increase in fees will impact teachers' net pay per pay period. The average teacher's salary in the province is $57,336 annually. The increase in fees will mean that a teacher at that salary level will pay an additional $5.51 per pay period. As union dues are tax deductible, and given that the tax rate for that average salary is about 40%, the actual net cost per pay period for a teacher at that point on the salary scale would be approximately $3.31. Obviously the amount will vary for those earning less/more than the average salary.

As previously stated, the increased fee deduction at source will begin with the first pay period in September 2005.

President Addresses Delegates at BGM 2005

Outgoing President Fred Douglas addressed delegates to BGM 2005. The following are excerpts from his address:

...The restructuring of education in Newfoundland and Labrador has resulted in many changes, and while these changes may have saved government some money, they have certainly not resulted in better working conditions for teachers or, for that matter, better learning conditions for students. Indeed, the opposite is true. The restructuring of school boards, with the resulting downloading of work to schools, ISSPs, Pathways implementation, increased inclusion of special needs students, increasing class sizes as a result of the elimination of over 400 teaching units in two years and the introduction of new curricula without sufficient resources for implementation has added tremendously to teacher workload. We have become developers of curriculum at the expense of our role as deliverers of curriculum!

... The resources allocated for ISSP development and the Pathways model, and the inclusion of special needs children into the regular classroom setting are woefully inadequate. We desperately need the promised support services which will make the concept viable and beneficial to our students. Instead, there are long waiting lists for formal assessments, and teachers have been left to manage integration in the best manner we can without adequate support and resources. We prepare Individual Support Plans for these students and ensure that these plans are implemented and followed throughout the year. No extra time is provided during the instructional day to either develop and prepare these programs, collaborate with colleagues who also teach the child, or to meet with other professionals and parents who must be involved in the process. It is absolutely essential that each teacher have at least one preparation period per day if these changes are to be implemented with the benefit to the child as the ultimate goal.

...Salaries and mandatory supervision are two other items which must be positively addressed in this upcoming round of bargaining. We have in this province, in my opinion, the best trained and most highly qualified professional educators in North America. Since we hold them accountable to international standards despite the provision of inadequate resources, the least we can do is to ensure that they are remunerated at or near the Canadian average. How much longer can we continue to utilize the resources of these qualified professionals to carry out lunch time supervision? Many jurisdictions across Canada have already turned these duties over to paraprofessionals at a fraction of the cost.

...It is the educator and, I would suggest, specifically the practitioner in the school, who is truly knowledgeable about the constantly changing and evolving face of education and how it affects our school system and our children. I would respectfully suggest that few of the general public, and especially those who have been out of the K-12 system for more than a decade, would recognize the school system of today as being in any way relevant to their experiences when they attended grade school. While I am not for one minute suggesting in any way that parental involvement and input is not an important aspect of the child's education, it must be recognized that the educator is the professional. All of us would obviously like to participate as fully as our knowledge allows in our own health, diagnosis and treatment but yet, in the final analysis, unless we suspect gross error, we accept the health care professional's advice. Many people find this same rationale difficult to accept when it comes to the professional educator's advice and quite frankly this attitude needs to change.

Teachers Honored

Awards Presented at BGM 2005

In keeping with past tradition, the efforts of a number of teachers who have made significant contributions to both their profession and their Association were recognized at Convention 2005. Award winners for 2004 were announced last year but presented at this Convention. The following provides information on the awards and the 2005 winners.

Wayne Russell • Honorary Member

Wayne Russell's education career began in 1964 as a teacher with the Port Rexton School Board. From 1969 until 1978 he taught in Labrador in various teaching positions such as mathematics and science teacher, Department Head for Mathematics, as well as a high school principal. In 1978 he joined the staff of the Newfoundland and Labrador Teachers' Association as Executive Assistant in Teacher Welfare. From 1981 to 1985 he held the position of Director of Teacher Welfare, and in 1985 he became Executive Director of the NLTA. He retired from this position in 1997 and took a position as Vice-President, Special Services, with Johnson Inc. Mr. Russell held this position until December of 2003. He is currently Chair of the Board and CEO of the Own the Podium Project. This is a project established to have Canada become the leading nation by total medals won at the 2010 Vancouver-Whistler Olympic Games.

During Mr. Russell's diverse employment history he worked closely with the Provincial Government, including liaising with the Department of Education, interacting with the Department of Finance on budgets and pensions, and involvement with the Department of Labour and Treasury Board for all matters related to collective bargaining.

It was the work performed on behalf of teachers and schools, however, that was the most satisfying and fulfilling to Mr. Russell during his career. Working with teachers on committees, writing about the concerns of teachers and education, and speaking about these same issues were the highlight of his extensive career path. Mr. Russell travelled the province in pursuit of promoting teachers and education and meeting and working with teachers in their schools and communities.

Besides his work at the local level, Mr. Russell also had a great deal of involvement with organizations at regional, national and international levels. Among these groups were the Canadian Teachers' Federation (CTF), Canadian Educational Association (CEA), Council of Atlantic Provinces Teacher Organizations (CAPTO), Canadian Association for the Practical Study of Law in Education (CAPSLE), Conference on New Techniques and Classroom Teaching (CONTACT), the Canadian School Boards Association (CSBA), Education International (EI), and some international work in Ghana in 1988. In 1989, Mr. Russell was a member of the Canadian delegation to an educational transborder exchange of ideas in San Diego, California. He also served as a member of the Premier's Advisory Council on the Economy from 1990 to 1995.

Some of Mr. Russell's accomplishments and activities are more noteworthy than others, however, one in particular can be credited with altering the course of education in Newfoundland and Labrador. Mr. Russell was instrumental in helping alter the structural organization of primary, elementary and secondary education in the province from an overlapping church-based system to a geographically-based public system. In 1986, Mr. Russell, through the NLTA, presented Cabinet with a case for the Royal Commission study on education entitled "Exploring New Pathways". Besides presenting this brief to the Commission, numerous meetings with its chair and other commissioners were also necessary. Once this piece of work was initiated, Mr. Russell's biggest challenge was endeavouring to keep the faith among the membership of the NLTA that the course selected was correct and the best one for education in Newfoundland and Labrador. This took ten years to accomplish and his perseverance along the way was commendable. Since the original brief was written, Mr. Russell has led the education reform movement through a new Schools Act, a new Education Act, two provincial referendums, two votes in the House of Commons and Senate, and most remarkable, two significant changes to the Canadian Constitution.

It is important to note that throughout his work in educational reform in this province, as well his vast experiences with education, Mr. Russell ensured that the NLTA stood firm on principal and concern for education and for the children of Newfoundland and Labrador.

Besides his extensive educational and employment history, Mr. Russell has also served in numerous voluntary or appointed positions throughout his lifetime. He chaired or was a member of a variety of education committees, boards, task forces and councils at the provincial and national levels. These included the Task Force on Class Size and Teacher Workload; the Board of Directors of Memorial University; Institute of Educational Research and Development; the General Advisory Committee to the Minister of Education; the Presidential Committee to Review the Faculty of Education at Memorial University; the Educational Advisory Committee for the Economic Council of Newfoundland and Labrador; the Economic Council of Newfoundland and Labrador; the Study Focus Group to oil related sites in England, Scotland and Norway; and the educational project in Ghana, West Africa conducted for the Canadian Teachers' Federation and the Canadian International Development Association. He was a member of the Canadian delegation to the World Conference of the Teaching Profession in Australia, the Canadian delegation to an educational transborder exchange of ideas in San Diego, California, and the Canadian delegation to the World Conference of the Teaching Profession in Costa Rica.

Mr. Russell's activities outside of his employment have been mainly focused on sports. He was active as a hockey coach, coaching instructor, and chair of the Hockey Newfoundland Development Council. He was also a member of the St. John's Sports and Entertainment Board. From 1999 to 2002 he was President of the Canadian Hockey Association and is currently Chair of the Canadian Hockey Foundation. He is presently a member of the Hockey Development Council of the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association, Chair of the Audit Committee of the Canadian Olympic Committee, Member of the Finance Committee of the Canadian Olympic Committee, member of the Board of the Canadian Olympic Committee, Chair of the Advisory Committee for the International Hockey Heritage Centre, and Special Project Advisor with the Ottawa Senators.

Mr. Russell is an Honorary Life Member of Hockey Newfoundland. He is a winner of the Queen's Jubilee Medal and the Special Recognition Award of the Canadian Teachers' Federation.

HARVEY SMITH, 1952 – 2005Harvey Smith

March 5, 2005 marks a day we will never forget. In the early morning hours, Harvey Smith of Blaketown passed quietly away after a courageous battle with cancer. Born on June 30, 1952, Harve is remembered as a quiet man, a loving and devoted father and a dedicated teacher. He began his teaching career in September 1972 in Harbour Mille on the Burin Peninsula. He spent 19 years in that community and his entire career on the Burin Peninsula, moving to Jacques Fontaine All Grade and then to St. Bernard's until his retirement in June 2002.

The positive impact of his teaching career remains deep-felt, particularly in Harbour Mille where he was a school principal and taught side by side with his wife, Cora, for 17 years in a two-room school. A quote from a former student reads: "Mr. Smith has made a huge impact on who I am today and how I got there. He was a fair, kind and loving man, a superb teacher and a great role model."

Wherever Harve went he gained the admiration and respect of his students and colleagues just by being himself – soft spoken and kind-hearted, yet a firm and fair teacher. In spite of the frustrations and difficulties that come with teaching, he always put his best efforts into his work.

A man of quiet but very strong faith, Harve was dedicated to his family and cherished his two children, Harvey (Jr.) and Janine. He was also a loving brother, brother-in-law, son-in-law, uncle and friend. His sense of humour and good nature will be sorely missed.

Harve leaves behind his wife of 30 years, Cora, and two children – Harvey (Institute for Cancer Research, London, England) and Janine (Journalism Program, King's College, Halifax). He also leaves two brothers, four sisters and numerous relatives and friends.

"Think of him as living in the hearts of those he touched. For nothing loved is ever lost and he was loved so much."

Raymond Smith*RAYMOND SMITH

Raymond Smith passed peacefully away on March 8, 2005 at James Paton Memorial Hospital in Gander at 73 years of age.

Ray held undergraduate degrees from Memorial University and a Masters degree from Boston University. He taught in schools at Little Harbour, Woody Point, Baie L'Argent, Eastport, New Harbour and Gambo. He retired in 1987 following 18 years as a Special Services Coordinator with the Terra Nova Integrated School Board in Gander.

After retirement Ray gave his considerable talents and energy to several areas, most notably to the Gander Seniors 50+ Club, the Retired Teachers' Association, and St. Martin's Anglican Cathedral. He worked well with people and was gregarious and well liked, obviously enjoying all the volunteer work he was engaged in.

As a professional Ray Smith was truly one of Newfoundland's great educators. He was most often, and early, ahead of the thinking in his field of special services for exceptional children. He had a real philosophy of education, which was solidly and completely based on the child. He knew the theories and the research on the leading edge, but if the impact on children, especially on children who needed special supports, was not clear, he moved on to a more practical approach. He had a great empathy for the individual child. That was the hallmark of his career.

Ray loved life. He worked extremely hard, but when the time came to relax he could do that with great skill as well. A good barbequed steak, or two, a beer, or two, or a drop of Scotch and a good yarn and a good laugh among friends were his delights.

Ray was a family man above all else. His whole life centered around his wife and two daughters. He was never happier than when he was home, and working. He often mixed the two, bringing one or both of his girls to the office on a Sunday afternoon or a sunny summer's day to do just a bit more work.

Privately and professionally Ray was so straightforward that one often didn't realize the true great strength that he had as a human being, in every sense of that phrase. God bless him for what he was and did, and bless and comfort all those who love him.

Mourning their loss are his wife, Eileen, and two daughters, Annette (Paul Archibald) and Sherry (Roger Peircey), brother Clifford (Grace), sister Winnifred (Fred Osbourne), and loving grandchildren Jennifer, Chelsey, Stephen and Kimberley.

Going on Leave? Things You Should Know

by DON ASH

Whether you are going on maternity leave, approved leave without pay, unpaid sick leave, educational leave, or deferred salary leave, it is your responsibility to ensure your desired benefits are maintained while on leave. The purpose of this article is to ensure teachers going on leave are aware of the steps which must be taken to maintain these benefits which include NLTA Membership, Group Insurance and Pension service.

TYPE OF LEAVE	NLTA MEMBERSHIP	GROUP INSURANCE	PENSION
Maternity Leave	N2	G2	P3
Approved unpaid leave	N2	G3	P3
Unpaid sick leave	N2	G3	P3
Educational leave	N1	G1	P2
Deferred salary leave	N1	G1	P1

NLTA Membership

- N1 – Membership dues continue to be paid as normal via deduction from paid salary.
- N2 – Payment of $2.00 per month must be made to the NLTA to maintain membership rights and benefits as per NLTA policy. Normally, one cheque covering the entire period of leave is mailed to the NLTA, attention Finance Division, 3 Kenmount Road, St. John's, NL, A1B 1W1.

Group Insurance

- G1 – Payment of group insurance premiums continue to be paid via normal payroll deduction.
- G2 – Teachers must arrange with the plan administrator, Johnson Inc., to pay their share of the group insurance premiums by bank deductions. Failure to do so will result in termination of insurance. If insurance is terminated, the teacher will be required to apply for coverage, and provide proof of medical insurability subject to policy limitations, should the teacher wish to resume coverage.

- G3 – Teachers must arrange with Johnson Inc. to pay by bank deduction both their share and the governments' share (Life, Accidental Death and Dismemberment, and Health plans only) of the group insurance premiums. Failure to do so will result in termination of insurance. If insurance is terminated, the teacher will be required to apply for coverage, and provide proof of medical insurability subject to policy limitations, should the teacher wish to resume coverage.

Pension

- P1 – Pension premium continues to be paid on the full salary (not the reduced deferred salary), and full pension service accrues.
- P2 – Pension premium is paid on 80% salary, and 80% pension service accrues while on educational leave. Teachers may arrange with Pensions Division to purchase the lost 20% pension service within six (6) months from return to work. If the service time is purchased within this window, the cost is at current contribution rates matched by government. After six (6) months, the cost is at full actuarial value.
- P3 – Pension premium is unpaid and no pension service accrues while on leave. Teachers may arrange with Pensions Division to purchase lost pension service within six (6) months from return to work. If the service time is purchased within this window, the cost is at current contribution rates matched by government. After six (6) months, the cost is at full actuarial value.

Transfers Requests

General Principles On Which “Reasonable Effort” Should Be Considered

by PERRY DOWNEY

Now that the end of the current school year is fast approaching, many teachers are beginning to contemplate whether or not they should request a transfer from their current teaching position to another position within the same Board. Teachers often consider transfers for a variety of reasons. Some consider a transfer as: i) an advancement towards a greater goal; ii) an opportunity to occupy a more desirable position; or, iii) an opportunity to get closer to home. Others consider a transfer simply as a “change”. As the saying goes, “a change is sometimes as good as a holiday”. However, as is all too familiar, teaching today, with its endless demands and expectations, is definitely no “holiday”, no matter which position we choose to occupy.

While School Boards are determining their vacancies for the next school year and are internally posting the various positions within the schools throughout their District, many teachers are reviewing and updating their resumes, preparing to apply for various transfer positions. Teachers should ensure that their educational qualifications are updated, especially if they have changed in recent years, as well as ensuring that their experiences and teaching responsibilities are up-to-date before submitting an application to School Board officials indicating their desire to be considered for vacant positions during the transfer process.

As the process begins, it is also very common for teachers to contact the Benefits and Economic Services (BES) Division of the NLTA. Teachers who contact our Division often question whether or not the Administrative Staff are aware of the qualities and/or characteristics School Board officials will be considering as they review applications from candidates seeking transfers. Teachers often ask the question: “What does it mean that a School Board is supposed to make a ‘reasonable effort’ to accommodate requests from teachers already employed with the Board in a continuing contract?” This is often a very difficult question to answer conclusively since it depends on a number of factors; however, over the years, the meaning of this phrase has been clarified by Arbitration Boards.

The phrase “reasonable effort” appears in both the Provincial (PCA) and Labrador West Collective Agreements (LWCA) in Clause 6.12(a) and Clause 42.07(a), respectively. It is these clauses which must be specifically considered by School Board officials when they are reviewing transfer applications. In addition to Clause 6.12(a), School Board officials must also consider Clause 13.01 (PCA) or Clause 44.02 (LWCA).

Clause 6.12 (a) [Clause 42.07] states: In filling vacant positions in accordance with Clause 6.03, the Board shall: make a reasonable effort to accommodate requests from teachers already employed with the Board in a continuing contract.

Clause 13.01 [Clause 44.02] states: A teacher may be transferred to a comparable position within the same community when it is deemed necessary but shall not be transferred from one community to another without the teacher’s consent.

In a recent Arbitration decision, the Arbitrator stated that there are “some general principles by which reasonable effort is to be tested”. These general principles were first set out in an Arbitration ruling in 1987 and were reiterated again in another ruling in the fall of 2004. In both decisions, the arbitrators cited the following as some general principles by which “reasonable effort” is to be tested.

1. An applicant who is requesting a transfer to an advertised vacant position must receive bona fide consideration. If such applicant meets the stated qualifications for the position, that consideration should include a personal interview.
2. The selection of an outside applicant (or of one transfer applicant over another) must not be arbitrary nor based on criteria other than those of Clause 6.03. (Note: Clause 6.03 [Clause 42.05 - LWCA] states: The basic criteria for the selection of teachers shall be competence, suitability and qualifications as assessed by the School Board.).

3. A transfer request must not be denied simply because the Employer wishes to keep the teacher in his/her present position.

4. "Reasonable effort" to accommodate a transfer request does not mean to unreasonably deny another applicant the right to become a candidate for a publicly advertised position (under Clause 8.01), or to be assessed in accordance with Clause 6.03.

For the most part, School Board officials do comply with these principles during the transfer process, however, the BES Division often receives calls from individual teachers who have concerns because they have not been successful during the transfer round. There are many different reasons given why an individual was not successful, however, sometimes the reason provided centers around #3 above. Teachers are sometimes told by School Board officials that the reason they were not granted a transfer was because the School Board felt it would have difficulty "back-filling" the position that would be vacated had they allowed the transfer to occur. This reason is often given to teachers who occupy specialty positions, such as Special Education, Core French or French Immersion, guidance, or sciences and mathematics, just to mention a few. Teachers who teach in rural and/or isolated regions of the province are also sometimes given this reason. If any teacher is unsuccessful during the transfer process and upon inquiry to School Board officials is told specifically that the reason why he/she was unsuccessful during the transfer process was because the Board felt it would have difficulty "back-filling" his/her position, he/she should contact an Administrative Officer in the BES Division of the NLTA to discuss his/her particular circumstances and the options that are available. It is important to remember that if you wish to formally challenge a decision of the School Board through the grievance process as outlined in the Collective Agreement, or any other decision of the School Board where you believe you did not receive "bona fide consideration", you must "submit the grievance in writing to the Director within ten (10) calendar days of the occurrence or discovery of the incident giving rise to the grievance ..." (PCA - Clause 31.02/ LWCA - Clause 50.03). It is always the desire of the NLTA Administrative Staff to resolve disputes between teachers and their respective School Board without having to engage in the grievance process, however, if an issue cannot be resolved, the teacher(s) would maintain the right to file a grievance and to challenge the decision of the Board through the grievance process. In most cases, the decision to proceed with a grievance is made in consultation with one of the Administrative Staff Officers in BES.

With the new re-structured School Board boundaries, we anticipate that there will be an increase in the number of teachers seeking transfers. However, given the recent budget announcement by the Provincial Government that removed 145 teaching units from the school system for next school year, teachers who are redundant and/or laid off will have priority to vacant positions that they are capable of filling before transfer requests are considered.

Clause 9.09 [Clause 47.05] states: A School Board will not advertise any position or hire any teacher until it has made every effort to place those teachers who have been laid off or who have been notified in writing that they are to be laid off.

Even though there is a reduction in the number of teaching units for next year, we do anticipate that there will be opportunities for teachers to transfer within their Districts. As positions are advertised, those teachers who are seeking transfers are encouraged to submit their applications to their respective Assistant Director of Human Resources or designate for consideration.

Net Teacher Pension Income

by DON ASH

We periodically receive requests from active teachers for a breakdown or comparison of the “take-home” pay they would receive as a pensioner compared with what they are receiving as an active teacher. The NLTA and Pensions Division will not do individual take-home calculations because individual personal circumstances impact take-home pay. As well, tax rates and group insurance premiums are subject to change. The following calculations are offered for illustrative purposes and are not estimates or guarantees of individual take-home pay.

The attached tables are based on a teacher at the top of Certificate V, Certificate VI and Certificate VII retiring in June, 2005 with a total of 33.8 years of pensionable service (eg. 29.8 worked years plus 4 years of university buy-back).

It is important to note that these tables do not represent a guarantee of the level of net retirement income which a teacher will receive. The tables are generated based on a number of assumptions, including the following:

1. The teacher is retiring with 33.8 years of pensionable service.
2. The pension calculation assumes the full accrual for all years (2.22% prior to January 1, 1991 and 2% since January 1, 1991 except the 1993-94 fiscal year). In 1993-94, a teacher's accrual will be 0.75% less as a result of government's reduced contribution to the pension during the 1993-94 fiscal year (unless the teacher 'topped up' government's reduced contribution).
3. The estimated group insurance deductions include the dependent health, basic life and basic AD&D insurance at May 2005 premium rates. A teacher's other coverages and premium increases would change that estimated deduction.

It should also be noted that pension payroll is based on 24 pay periods per annum and not the 26 pay periods on which the Teacher Payroll system operates.

As the tables indicate, deductions for Canada Pension Plan premiums, Employment Insurance premiums, Teachers' Pension Plan contributions (9.35%), and NLTA fees are not applied to pension income. The only two deductions applied to the illustrated pension income are income tax and group insurance premiums.

The maximum annual Canada Pension premium for 2005 is $1,861.20. The maximum annual EI premium for 2005 is $761.00. Active teachers will not have CPP or EI premium deductions after these annual amounts have been paid.

Individual teachers should consult directly with a tax planner or investment advisor if they are looking for a definitive statement concerning income figures applicable to their own circumstances upon retirement.

Note:

- These numbers represent estimates only and are not intended as a specific calculation of any teacher's net pension income (see earlier comments).
- Teachers retiring with fewer than 33.8 pensionable years are cautioned that the pension income will be lower and therefore these net difference figures will be more substantial in their cases.

In addition to the above, teachers sometimes inquire about the effect on their pension income, should they decide to continue teaching for another year or two. There are two factors which impact the pension calculation in working another year. A teacher's pension accrual rate will be 2% higher for every additional year worked and the 5 year average salary applied to the accrual will usually be higher because of the higher salary in the last year worked when compared to salary earned five years ago.

Inquiries on any of the above information should be directed to an Administrative Officer in the Benefits and Economic Services Division or to personnel in the Pensions Division at the Department of Finance, Government of Newfoundland and Labrador.

Financing a Year of Deferred Salary Leave

by DON ASH

The Deferred Salary Leave Program (DSLPL) is available to any tenured teacher in a permanent position covered by our collective agreement and is covered by Article 51 of the Provincial Collective Agreement (Article 57 of the Labrador West Agreement). Many teachers find the DSLPL an excellent means of financing a year of leave to pursue travel, family time, other employment, or any interest that an individual might have. Leave under this plan is credited for purposes of pension, seniority, severance, increment, and sick leave. The plan is registered with Canada Revenue Agency (CRA) who does not allow the year of leave to be used as the year of retirement. Application for enrolment in the DSLPL beginning September should normally be made by April 30 of the previous year.

While teachers find the DSLPL an excellent avenue for rejuvenation, there are economic realities which must be faced. The Administrative Officers in the Benefits and Economic Services Division are often asked what the “difference is” in take-home pay while on Deferred Salary. We are reluctant to provide specific financial advice to members because each individual’s financial situation is different and all financial matters are subject to change. Subsequently, the information provided contains rough estimates.

The following comparison of net salary for a teacher on full salary versus the various Deferred Salary options are rough calculations and for illustration purposes only. Each individual teacher’s situation will be different. The salaries are those that will be in effect as of September 2005. Taxes deducted vary for each teacher and they are rough approximations based on information provided by Teacher Payroll. EI and CPP deductions are based on 2005 formulae. A teacher in the DSLPL pays pension on the full unreduced salary. EI premiums are paid on the full salary, but no EI premiums are paid during the year of leave. Subsequently, EI may not be able to be drawn in the year following the year of Deferred Leave, which may have implications for those wishing to take maternity leave following a deferred salary leave. Any further questions on the Deferred Salary Leave Plan should be directed to an Administrative Officer in the Benefits and Economic Services Division of the NLTA.

Plan Ahead and Register Early

Pre-Retirement Seminars

by DON ASH

Teachers within two years of retirement eligibility should register for one of the NLTA's seven Pre-Retirement Seminars being held in the fall of 2005 in Stephenville, Corner Brook, Gander, Grand Falls-Windsor, and three in St. John's. These seminars are held in accordance with Association policy as part of its overall program of pre-retirement counselling. Clause 18.12 of the Provincial Collective Agreement and Clause 29.12 of the Labrador West Collective Agreement provide two days paid leave to attend these seminars.

Information sessions will deal with topics such as the Teachers' Pension Plan, Severance Pay, Employment Insurance, NLTA Group Insurance, Financial and Estate Planning and the Canada Pension Plan. As well, time is available for individual counselling of prospective retirees by the various consultants.

NOTE: The full text of the NLTA Policy on Pre-Retirement Seminars and the application form can be found on the NLTA website (www.nlta.nl.ca). A link on the main page called "Forms Online" will bring you to the applicable form and policy. The NLTA policy will also be mailed to teachers with confirmation of registration.

Things You Should Know About Attending

- Potential participants must register for a particular seminar and apply to their District for leave.
- Only those teachers eligible to retire during or before June 2008 will be eligible to attend.
- Registration must be received at the NLTA Office at least four weeks in advance to ensure approval of attendance.
- The Association reserves the right to refuse acceptance of registration forms at any particular seminar if the registration has not been received at the NLTA office in accordance with Association policy.
- It is the responsibility of the individual participant to make arrangements for hotel accommodations, should any be required. Please reference that you are attending an NLTA function and this should provide a reduced rate which is available to persons travelling on Association related business.
- Travel expenses shall be reimbursed in accordance with the following provisions:

i) participants shall be reimbursed the lesser of travel by private vehicle or public transportation to the seminar closest to the place of residence. In the event that a teacher requests and is accepted to attend a seminar other than the closest seminar, the participant shall only be reimbursed the amount applicable for travel to the closest seminar.

ii) payment for travel in a private vehicle shall be at the rate of 6.4¢ per kilometre for the return trip from residence to seminar site.

iii) travel via public transportation will be reimbursed at the rate of 80 percent of ferry, taxi, or economy airfare; in the case of airfare, the lesser of excursion (seat sale) or 80 percent of economy airfare will be paid, where excursion (seat sale) fares can be arranged. Receipts shall be required for all reimbursement.

iv) no expenses will be paid to participants living or teaching in the community where the seminar is held.

v) a spouse is welcome to accompany the participating teacher to the pre-retirement seminar, but no expenses will be covered.

- All other expenses, such as meals, accommodation and child care, are the responsibility of the participating teacher.

- Expenses will be provided for one pre-retirement seminar only and a teacher participant shall be permitted to attend one seminar only. (Notwithstanding this, a teacher may attend a second seminar as a spouse.)

- Teachers must attend the seminar location closest to their place of residence, except in cases where the mode, cost or availability of transportation necessitates otherwise.

- Directors and Assistant Directors, and spouses, are welcome to attend one pre-retirement seminar, but no expenses will be paid in accordance with this policy.

Given the increasing numbers of teachers eligible to retire, we reserve the right to limit the number of people who will be granted access, depending on the physical facilities available at each site. Consequently, it is imperative that teachers plan ahead and register early in the event that registrations have to be taken on a first-come, first-served basis.

An Educational RANT

(with apologies to Rick Mercer)

by BEVERLEY PARK

You know how it is when you hear something – and it triggers something else – and before you know it your mind is on some internal “rant”. Some might call it a kind of Rick Mercer syndrome. Well, it happened to me at Convention. My rant was triggered by President Fred Douglas’ speech.

(Now if you really want this to sound like a rant you’ll read it out loud and really fast!)

It wasn’t Fred’s commentary on the restructuring of the education system, or his recommendations to Premier Williams on the use of the monies from the Atlantic Accord, or the lessons from geese that got me going. It was his very astute observation that the public assumes to know all about education and schools and teachers and teaching just because they once at one time (maybe decades ago) went to school.

[I made that sentence very long on purpose!]

Well, like Fred said, they’re wrong! They’re something like the people I know who, when faced with a “simple” home repair say to themselves, “Well, how hard can it be, really?” So after a few trips to the do-it-yourself section at the hardware store (factor in the time and gas) spending a fortune on materials (some of which are the wrong ones) and then spending twice the time to “complete” the project (with lots of spare screws and bolts and thingamajigs left over), they find that the tap they installed has a drip that just won’t stop, or the door won’t close properly or...

Sound familiar? Eventually, to get the job done right, we all know that it takes an expert. When it comes to education, we, the teachers, are the experts!

When the public looks at our schools and our classrooms with that “How hard can it be, anyway?” attitude, we should remind them that sometimes that which looks simple is very complex. I mean how hard can it be to toss three (or even two) balls into the air one after the other, and catch them in sequence? Sounds simple enough, but have you ever tried juggling? On the surface, a Rubik’s Cube puzzle looks quite simple too – well, actually it’s very simple to mix it up and create a kind of Rubik’s Cube chaos, but have you ever tried to put one back together?

Anyone who knows me knows that I am a huge fan of CBC Radio and I recall some years ago an interview Peter Gzowski did with an educator (can’t remember who, but it wasn’t me and it wasn’t Fred, but we agree with him!). The teacher used the metaphor of a big band. Nobody watching and listening (unless he or she is a musician) thinks for a minute that s/he could play the saxophone or the trumpet or the piano – but for some reason everyone thinks they can play the drums! Professional drummers know the difference!

Now don’t get the impression that I am suggesting that the public is ignorant and should stay out of our schools... NO, quite the opposite. We know how important the public (our parents and others) is to a well-functioning education system. Parents and the public must be our biggest allies and supporters and we certainly do not want to alienate them. But we may need to inform them so that they don’t “mis-see” us as so many mis-see the drummers in the band. We don’t want them to view our tasks as professional educators in the same way as they view the do-it-yourself project. We need to help them see that we are the professionals and – no offense to home-schooling – there is a lot about schools and schooling and education that should come with a caution: do not try this at home!

To those who haven’t been inside a school door for a few decades and who still think it’s the same as when they were there, invite them to take a look in the mirror. Ask them “Do YOU look the same as you did when you were in school?” Well, the changes in the school and the way it operates are at least as dramatic as the personal changes you see in the mirror. To really measure the effect, instead of looking at a mirror, look instead at one of your old school photos! I’d venture to guess that there have been some striking changes – many of them for the better.

I rest my case!

Of note: You can read excerpts from the President’s address to the 2005 Biennial Convention on page 7.

Vers la réussite de tous les élèves au secondaire

par RICHARD CAISSIE

Dans le numéro février/mars 2004 de la revue Vie pédagogique, un article de Carole Leclerc, Liette Picard et Hélène Poliquis-Verville intitulé « Des portes ouvertes vers la réussite de tous les élèves » nous donne des pistes intéressantes qui pourraient s'appliquer aux jeunes du secondaire qui éprouvent des difficultés d'apprentissage.

Je soulève certaines parties qui m'ont frappé, réalisant que la lecture intégrale du texte permettra d'en saisir toutes les nuances :

- une réflexion (doit être) menée [...] par l'ensemble des partenaires de l'école secondaire (et se traduire) en des services diversifiés et adaptés aux élèves de la communauté locale
- accepter que cette réussite (de tous les élèves) puisse se traduire différemment
- (la mission première du personnel enseignant est) d'accompagner les élèves dans leurs apprentissages [...] et de les soutenir dans leur projet de formation
- (les services aux élèves doivent appuyer le personnel enseignant) à la réalisation d'actions de soutien et d'aide intégrées et diversifiées
- agir de façon préventive [...] puisque tout élève peut, à un moment ou l'autre, éprouver des difficultés dans son parcours scolaire (...il faut) intervenir rapidement dès qu'une difficulté se manifeste
- répondre aux besoins variés des différents élèves qui composent les classes [...] de façon telle que chaque élève se trouve aussi souvent que possible dans des situations d'apprentissage fécondes pour lui
- (il faudra) un soutien additionnel à l'enseignante ou à l'enseignante avec un appui particulier à l'élève
- consolider certains apprentissages ou remédier à des difficultés particulières (chez les élèves en difficulté)
- les services ajoutés doivent être diversifiés et mis en place le plus près possible de ces élèves, c'est-à-dire dans les classes
- services adaptés doivent prendre en considération l'ensemble des facteurs pouvant influencer leur parcours scolaires (personnels, familiaux, sociaux et scolaires)
- une approche privilégiant la différenciation pédagogique et l'adaptation des services aux capacités et aux besoins de chaque élève nécessite une gestion orientée vers la diversification organisationnelle

- l'école doit donc développer des modèles autres que les cheminements particuliers, soit encourager des initiatives visant à apporter des réponses personnalisées et adaptées au profil de formation des élèves
- aménagement de grille-horaire en fonction des besoins de concentration et de projets interdisciplinaires
- établir, pour chacun des élèves, ses potentiels, ses intérêts et ses aspirations scolaires et professionnelles
- proposer aux élèves différents parcours scolaires tout en leur offrant des possibilités d'exploration professionnelle dans le but de les aider à mieux saisir le sens et l'utilité des apprentissages réalisés à l'école
- maintenir des exigences élevées pour mieux répondre aux aspirations et aux capacités des élèves
- leur permettre d'accéder à une formation plus poussée s'ils le désirent et s'ils en ont les capacités [...] de façon à rendre possible le passage vers un profil de formation plus exigeant pouvant mener à un diplôme d'études secondaires ou à un diplôme d'études professionnelles
- de la souplesse, de l'ouverture et la possibilité de recourir à une « formation à la carte » permettant de répondre à des besoins et à des champs d'intérêt variés qu'il faut offrir aux élèves pour les mener à la réussite
- la nécessité de travailler ensemble et d'établir de solides associations avec les partenaires de la communauté intéressés par la formation professionnelle des élèves pour briser l'isolement et mettre à profit les expertises et les compétences les plus variées.
- mobiliser toutes les énergies dans un but commun : « la réussite de tous les jeunes du secondaire, y compris ceux qui ont des handicaps ou des difficultés »

Teacher Certification Upgrading

Approval of Programs

by ROBERT PARSONS

There is a trend in the teaching profession toward the attainment of higher qualifications. Although there is no formal requirement in this province for teachers to complete additional university courses or programs following initial certification, now more than ever, teachers are choosing to complete additional certificates, degrees, and diplomas. The reasons are varied and include the necessity to keep current within the profession; to move into new fields; to advance within the structures of educational administration; or simply to gain a higher level of certification and salary.

The Department of Education approves between 850 and 900 teacher certification applications per year. Of this number, approximately 42% are applications from teachers who are upgrading their certification levels. The current trend within this province is toward graduate studies in education, rather than additional undergraduate degrees and diplomas, although there are still a significant number of primary-elementary teachers who choose undergraduate programs in special education or teachable subject area disciplines.

The obvious benefit to a teacher for upgrading one's certification level is the increase of salary level. The "typical" teacher graduate from Memorial University begins with a Teacher's Certificate Level 5 which, under the current collective agreement, has a starting salary of $39,700 and a maximum salary of $51,985. By comparison, the salary range for TC6 is $45,280 to $60,212, and TC7 is $51,206 to $68,117.

Regardless of one's reasons for choosing to complete additional studies and thereby gain higher certification levels, there is a requirement within the teacher certification regulations for teachers to obtain the prior approval of the Teacher Certification Registrar for any program that is to be used for upgrading purposes. This is a critical step in planning to complete additional studies since there are restrictions on the types of programs and the types of institutions that are acceptable for this purpose. Obtaining the written approval of the Registrar ensures that a program is approved and will, upon completion, result in the awarding of the higher certificate level. Without this approval a teacher runs the risk of commencing, or even completing, a program which is not acceptable under the regulations, and therefore after expending a great deal of time, effort and money, does not receive the intended certificate upgrading. In some cases too, a particular program may be approved for one teacher to complete for certification upgrading purposes, but not be approved for another teacher. Each program submitted to the Registrar for approval is looked at in several contexts, including relevance to the teacher's previous training and teaching assignment, and whether the program duplicates previous studies credited for certification purposes.

Therefore, it is unwise to follow the lead of another teacher who has received approval of a program for upgrading purposes without also obtaining that approval for yourself. These individual approvals will be honored even if subsequent regulations changes disallow the approval of such programs. This may not be the case if the approval is not obtained before changes to the regulations are invoked.

The following Department of Education teacher certification web site (www.gov.nl.ca/edu/k12/tcu.htm) explains the teacher certification upgrading options and the pre-approval process. Teachers are encouraged to visit this web site and to contact the Registrar of Teacher Certification for approval of all upgrading programs and to determine the effect of program completion on certificate level.

Upon completion of an approved program a teacher may download the certification upgrading application, fee schedule and instructions from the following site: www.gov.nl.ca/edu/k12/tcert.htm.

Prime Minister Honors Outstanding Teachers

Grant Etchegary

The 2003-04 recipients of the Prime Minister's Awards for Teaching Excellence were announced on March 22 at a gala event on Parliament Hill in Ottawa. Teachers from Newfoundland and Labrador were honored with eight awards – two of these were Certificates of Excellence, and six were Certificates of Achievement. The Certificate of Excellence recipients from Newfoundland and Labrador are:

Grant Etchegary, Holy Heart High School, St. John's. Mr. Etchegary teaches music and technology in Grades 10 to 12. He believes music enriches students in many ways – emotionally, creatively, socially and intellectually. Mr. Etchegary provides his students with a challenging repertoire to help foster their commitment to, and passion for, music.

Mr. Etchegary has created an outstanding music program which is respected for the quality of instruction. He developed an ingenious way of teaching complex rhythms by encouraging students to envision the entire music phrase, and then break it down into smaller parts. He uses new technologies, such as high-speed fiberoptic connectivity, to give students more opportunities to study music. As a result, 40 percent of students now take advantage of online mentoring sessions with master teachers from across Canada.

Mr. Etchegary also spearheaded the school's participation in a ground-breaking international online music project, which linked music students from five Canadian schools together with students from Finland, Switzerland and China via a high-speed fiberoptic connection. This successful project has now evolved into the successful MusicGrid initiative, where Canadian students and teachers, including Holy Heart students, get to collaborate online with professional musicians across Canada.

Mr. Etchegary has also commissioned six original works for his concert band, all relating to Newfoundland and Labrador themes.

Andrew Hickey, Holy Heart High School, St. John's. Mr. Hickey teaches earth systems, environmental, cooperative education in Grades 11 to 12. He emphasizes communication, respect, cooperation, responsibility and the development of the whole person in his teaching practices. Mr. Hickey believes education is all encompassing and should include experiences in and out of school.

Mr. Hickey often uses hands-on learning activities to stimulate students' imaginations and creative abilities. For example, he spearheaded a school mural project, based on the theme of exploring the earth's geological history. Students from every grade participated – researching the earth's history, choosing a specific era, and then designing and painting murals throughout the school.

He also initiated a number of web site projects which gave students opportunities to use videos, digital cameras, audio, scanners and various types of software, to tell the story of unique aspects of Canada's natural resources.

Lessons are built around everyday items to ensure that all students can grasp complex scientific ideas. Under his creative eye, M & M candies become a way to explain radioactive isotopes, and moose stew and caribou sausages become a way to discuss conservation management.

An outdoor enthusiast, Mr. Hickey initiated an outdoor excursion program at the school. The annual trip to Gros Morne National Park provides all students with the opportunity to explore the natural wonders and conduct scientific field studies within the incredible world heritage site. And to ensure that everyone takes part, he organizes fundraisers to help students cover the cost of the trip.

The Certificate of Achievement recipients from Newfoundland and Labrador are:

Anthony Hillier, Grade 10-12 Design Technology Teacher, Holy Spirit High School, Conception Bay South. Mr. Hillier supports colleagues by instructing them on how to use technology in their classrooms and by providing them with opportunities to familiarize themselves with software programs in formal, structured settings. He also organizes, coaches and mentors students for the Skills Canada Competition. Mr. Hillier's students have gone on to compete at the national level for three years in a row. Mr. Hillier encourages his students to strive for the very best and provides opportunities for all students, regardless of level or ability. He promotes exciting and relevant, activity-based technology instruction and encourages competition, creative thinking and problem-solving to capture students' interest and attention.

Andrew Hickey

Anthony Hillier

Bruce Lane, K-6 Learning Resources/Technology Teacher, Mary Queen of Peace Elementary School, St. John's. Mr. Lane was instrumental in obtaining funding that brought technology to the school. All students from Grades 1-6 create and maintain their own web site where they publish a portfolio of their work. This is seen as the most positive results of the technology program at Mary Queen of Peace Elementary School. Mr. Lane also maintains a network of 50 computers, often after school and on weekends. He opens the computer lab during recess, lunch and after school so students can complete their projects. Mr. Lane believes that students who learn to use the technology of today will be better prepared to learn the technology of tomorrow.

Norman Littlejohn, K-9 Technology Education Teacher, St. Francis School, Harbour Grace. Mr. Littlejohn implemented a cable system through the entire school with the assistance of a local TV company that supplied cable and hardware. With TV monitors in all the classrooms and hallways, students of all levels have the opportunity to broadcast slide presentations, student interest announcements, sports newscasts, etc. He also founded an annual robotics competition and led his junior robotics team to take home five out of six trophies at the provincial robotics competition, and led his team to compete in a North American Robotics competition in Atlanta, Georgia. Mr. Littlejohn believes the future of each student is in their own hands. They control their own destiny if they are willing to work hard and seek help when they need it.

Howard Lundrigan, Grade 7-9 Science, Mathematics, Adolescence Teacher, St. Peter's School, Upper Island Cove. Mr. Lundrigan employs the "If I were a teacher" method, whereby students reflect on themselves as math learners and are encouraged to teach a concept they have mastered to a group of their peers. He believes that students remember 80% of what they teach. He also introduced the Math Movements project to instill the love of math, alleviate the fear that some feel towards math, provide enrichment, encourage discussion and relate math skills to everyday life. Mr. Lundrigan's classes consistently top the list at the district and provincial levels. He believes all children can expand their horizons if given the appropriate environment and support.

Elizabeth Murphy, Grade 7-12 Technology, Math, Ethics Teacher, Christ the King School, Rushoon. Ms. Murphy has created an "outdoor classroom" – learning spaces where students can undertake environmental projects. As the school librarian, she held various book fairs to make low-cost books available to all school children and students who could not afford to make a purchase. She assists colleagues with special needs children to acquire the skills and knowledge required to use assistive devices. Ms. Murphy has volunteered to change her teaching assignments to accommodate emerging needs in the school by enrolling in courses to further enhance her teaching abilities and knowledge (school librarian, science, home economics, etc.) She is the founding chairperson of the province's first small school council, which provided the impetus for Memorial University's Diploma in Rural Education and Tele-learning, and is an elected member of the Executive Council of the NLTA. Ms. Murphy encourages students to think positively and to create a joy of learning in the classroom.

Keith Samuelson, Grade 10-12 English Teacher, Prince of Wales Collegiate, St. John's. Mr. Samuelson's Teaching for International Understanding framework aids to produce responsible global citizens. While learning to appreciate our nation's commitment to due process and rule of law, students are taught in a "global classroom," where patriotism and multiculturalism are seen as complementary ideas. He sees curiosity, critical thinking, ethics and communication as essential in becoming good global citizens. Education Week 2005

Opening Ceremonies Provide “Food for Thought”

The Opening Ceremonies for Education Week 2005 were celebrated on March 7 at Crescent Collegiate in Blaketown. The ceremonies were a great success and provided much food for thought as students, teachers, parents and invited guests helped launch the week.

Guests at the Opening Ceremonies included: Fred Douglas, President of the Newfoundland and Labrador Teachers' Association; the Honourable Tom Hedderson, Minister of Education; Dr. Alice Collins, Dean of Education, Memorial University of Newfoundland and Honorary Chairperson for Education Week 2005; Dr. Bruce Sheppard, Director, Eastern School District; as well as students, teachers and numerous other invited guests and community leaders.

The Masters of Ceremonies for the Opening were Rodney Jerrett, a Grade 9 French Immersion student at Crescent Collegiate, and Stephen Cooper, a Level III student at the school. Both students did a superb job of helping the event flow smoothly.

Principal John Way brings remarks on behalf of Crescent Collegiate.

Students from Crescent Collegiate and neighbouring schools join together for a wonderful performance of the provincial Education Week song.

Performances at the Opening included the Crescent Collegiate Concert Band, under the direction of Mr. Robert Lee. The band gave wonderful performances of “Cartoon Symphony” and “James Bond Themes”, as well as “O Canada” and “The Ode to Newfoundland”. The Crescent Collegiate Choir, also directed by Mr. Lee, gave a very spirited performance of “Like an Eagle”, featuring solo performances by Brittany Keating, Brittany Reid, Colin Penney, and Cassandra Penney.

The superb performance of “Chanson d’Innocence” by the trio of sisters, Robyn, Lauren and Katie Newhook, showcased the wonderful talent at Crescent Collegiate. A vocal duet entitled “The Prayer” by siblings Colin and Cassandra Penney, was a further display of the magnificent pool of talented musicians at Crescent Collegiate and across the province.

The Crescent Collegiate Cheerleaders pull out all the stops during a rousing performance of “The Education Week Cheer”.

The audience was further entertained by the Crescent Collegiate Theatre Arts Class, who, under the instruction of Ms. Laurie Ann Reid, staged an outstanding student-written, student-produced piece entitled “Food for Thought”. The work was directed by student director Danielle Coley. The Crescent Collegiate Cheerleaders, coached by Ms. Kerri Morgan and Ms. Diane Fowler, also displayed a great sense of school spirit as they gave a lively performance of the “Education Week Cheer”. As a further tie-in to the Education Week theme, Terri Lynn Langer, a Level III student at Crescent Collegiate, gave a wonderful speech entitled “Living a Healthy Lifestyle”.

The Provincial Education Week Song was performed by the Crescent Collegiate Choir with Grade 4 choirs from the neighbouring schools of Acreman Elementary, Epiphany Elementary, Holy Family Elementary, Whitbourne Elementary, and Woodland Elementary.

Prior to the official signing ceremony, Laura Cumby, a Grade 7 French Immersion student, and Courtney Penney, a Level III student, expertly read the Education Week Education Week proclamation in both official languages.

NLTA President Fred Douglas and the Honourable Tom Hedderson sign the official Education Week proclamation.

A highlight of the Opening was an address by Dr. Alice Collins. Dr. Collins delivered high praise to the students, staff and school community of Crescent Collegiate.

In her reflection on the Education Week theme, Dr. Collins remarked: "Food for Thought – Tout sain-plement is a clever theme – focusing us, in the first instance, on food, healthy living and healthy choices. But it is much more than that – a theme that invites us to reflect on the value of education and its singularly important contribution to the growth and development of our students, ourselves, our communities, and our civil society. It is very compelling that healthy societies are educated societies and that vital link between health, healthy living and overall well being has time and again been shown to connect directly to levels of education of individuals and their society." She further congratulated the provincial organizing committee for Education Week 2005 for this year's inspiring and challenging theme and for the creative activities they suggested for the enjoyment and growth of students during the week.

Dr. Collins also thanked the NLTA for inviting her to be the Honorary Chairperson for Education Week 2005 and welcomed the opportunity to collaborate and work closely with members of the NLTA. "Please convey to your members my commitment to continue the strong and collegial professional relationship we enjoy with your Association as we continue to strive together for educational excellence in this province."

In her final remarks, she addressed the teachers of Crescent Collegiate and all teachers throughout the province. "On behalf of the Faculty of Education, I wish to acknowledge the trust you have placed in us for the responsibility of preparing teachers and offering graduate degrees. We are deeply grateful when you choose to study with us; it is our mission to be responsive to your professional goals and aspirations and I welcome the opportunity to continue to work with you as our colleagues and our friends."

This year's Opening Ceremonies were indeed a magnificent showcase of the wonderful talent and spirit of our students and teachers and left all who attended the event with much "food for thought".

The provincial Education Week Committee welcomes feedback on this year's activities. Plans for the organization of Education Week 2006 will be getting underway in the next few months.
