RE: THREE-WEEK PAY PERIOD GAP – AUGUST-SEPTEMBER 2017

All teachers are reminded that there will be a three-week gap between the last pay period for the 2016-17 school year and the first pay period for the 2017-18 school year. This three-week pay period gap occurs every five to six years (last occurring in 2012) as per article 22.01 of both the Provincial Collective Agreement and the Labrador West Collective Agreement.

As per Article 22.01, teachers are paid their annual salary in 26 equal installments throughout the year. In years in which there are 27 pay periods, the last pay period for August is eliminated and the pay periods in the next school year occur one week earlier. This means that the last pay period for the 2016-17 school year will fall on Thursday, August 17, 2017 and the next pay period (the first for the 2017-18 school year) will occur on Thursday, September 7, 2017.

Any questions related to this matter should be addressed to Programs and Services at the Newfoundland and Labrador Teachers' Association or the Teacher Payroll Division at the Department of Education.
